

AMC CAT MCQ examination application process

Step 1 | Apply for CAT MCQ examination authorisation

You can apply online (option A) or you can request a paper-based application form (option B).

- A Use the candidates portal to apply online

- B Request a CAT MCQ examination application form by email

Step 2 | Complete your application

Complete an application to the Australian Medical Council.

Important information

Incomplete applications will result in delays to your assessment and will incur a fee.

Step 3 | Schedule for an examination series with Pearson VUE

Once Pearson VUE confirms that you have authorisation to attend an examination series, you can schedule for your examination. If you have prior account details with Pearson VUE you can use them here; if not, you can apply to Pearson VUE for a new account.

You can schedule by telephone (option A) or use the Pearson VUE online scheduling system (option B).

- A Contact Pearson VUE by telephone

- B Use the Pearson VUE online scheduling system

Important information

You can change between CAT MCQ examination events and venues, provided you do so before the closing date. You can only schedule into one CAT MCQ examination event.
