National Prescribing Curriculum (NPC)

The National Prescribing Curriculum (NPC) is a series of interactive case-based modules that encourage confident and rational prescribing. The modules follow a stepwise approach as outlined in the WHO's Guide to Good Prescribing.

Getting started

1. Go to NPS MedicineWise Learning <http://learn.nps.org.au>
2. Look for the National Prescribing Curriculum logo and click on “Start now”

3. Log in

If you already have an NPS MedicineWise Learning account, login with your existing details. Please note: Logins for the old NPC site (prior to 2015) will not work on this site.
or

Register (if you are a first time user)

- a. Click the ‘Create new account’ button:
 - b. Fill in the registration form
 - c. New accounts need to be confirmed by email so an active email address is essential.
4. All NPC modules are available for your use

Records of completion

Certificates of completion are available upon completion of each individual module. You can view, download and print a full transcript of all your completed NPC modules.

Updating your details

You can change your password or update your registration details at any time by clicking on ‘My profile settings’ in the administration block found on the left of your computer screen or near the bottom of your tablet or mobile screen.

Computer and mobile device compatibility

The NPC modules have been designed for use on tablet devices and computers using recent browsers. They may also be used with mobile phones however the prescribing activities are not optimised for small screens.

Help

Use the Lost Password? In the login sections if you have forgotten your log in details. (Do not create a new account just because you have forgotten your login details. We cannot track your completion over multiple accounts) You can also contact our helpdesk for log in or any other help you need with using the NPS MedicineWise Learning site.
