

Fatimah

PERSONA DESCRIPTION

Fatimah, 40, Female, married with children. Country of training – Iraq where she worked as a GP. She had trouble passing the standard pathway exams but managed to get through after multiple attempts at the clinical exam. She struggled to get a job. She is a bit reserved and finds it difficult to advocate for herself. She came to Australia as her husband had been offered an employment opportunity in Australia. She has applied for multiple positions but has not been successful at gaining employment. Because she was unable to gain employment as a doctor her registration has been impacted. She is disappointed that her medical career has stalled even though she has successfully passed the examinations. She is seeking an Observership and CV support to help her gain employment. She would benefit from having a mentor to help her navigate the complexities of her situation.
