Become an AMC Clinical Examination Examiner

The Australian Medical Council is seeking experienced medical practitioners to join its Clinical Examination examiner cohort.

As an examiner, you will assess candidates against the standard expected of a doctor entering supervised practice in Australia. You will work alongside fellow examiners and contribute to a fair, consistent and high-quality assessment experience.

Why become an examiner?

- Contribute your clinical judgment and experience to medical assessment
- Support a rigorous and culturally safe examination
- Connect with colleagues from a range of clinical disciplines
- Receive training and ongoing support in the examiner role

Who are we looking for?

We welcome applications from medical practitioners across a range of disciplines who:

- have at least five years' experience following registration
- are currently involved in clinical practice and/or medical education
- have experience in supervision & assessment of medical students and/or prevocational doctors
- can apply consistent, evidence-based judgement
- are committed to respectful communication and culturally safe practice
- are willing to assess clinical skills across disciplines at the examination's expected standard

Support & Recognition

- Training provided
- Ongoing feedback
- Examining will contribute to CPD requirements
- AMC Clinical Exams are held at the AMC Test Centre in Melbourne, with examiner travel and accommodation arranged and paid for by the AMC and remuneration for examining

Interested in joining us?

Please register your interest as soon as possible, we will commence scheduling for exams in 2027 during November 2026.

Questions? Contact examiners@amc.org.au

Australian Medical Council

Supporting safe medical practice through assessment.